Project

Objectives

Starting from the idea of social marginalization of people with disabilities and from the accentuation of these conditions due to the pandemic with COVID-19, we set out to develop a project that would contribute to the educational process of children with disabilities, who currently have limited access to Learning activities because teaching them online is a real challenge for both teachers and students with Special Education Needs (SEN)

- Identifying the need according to the characteristics of the deficient child;
- Selecting the most appropriate educational material according to the child's disability;
- Working with Montessori techniques, ABA, PECS, Outdoor education;
- Selecting the most appropriate educational material according to the child's disability;
- The right choice of toys with psychological and rehabilitative impact on the child with disabilities.
